

REFUGEE WEEK 2017

Connecting the past to the present

Foundation stage

During the first Refugee Week lesson we discussed what it meant to be a refugee. We thought Paddington Bear was similar to a refugee as he had to leave his country as it was no longer safe. The children wrote thought bubbles of how Paddington may have felt.

"He might feel socked, sad, isolated,
surprised lonely
and confused."

REFUGEE WEEK 2017

Connecting the past to the present

Foundation stage

The children made Paddington's suitcase and each drew their own picture of Paddington

"He left his country because it wasn't safe. He feels sad because he misses his Aunty."
