

REFUGEE WEEK 2017

Connecting the past to the present

During our afternoons this week, we focussed on campaigning for refugees. We wrote speeches and created posters persuading the government to take in more refugees. We were shocked at the statistics for refugees coming to the UK. On Friday, we created Refugee Week artwork, which was a collage of words and pictures that represented what we have learnt during Refugee Week.

Connecting the past to the present

We spend one afternoon making a paper chain to symbolise communities joining together in tough times. We left this at Finsbury Park to give our support to the victims of the recent terrorist attack there.
