One beautiful sunny day, in the middle of the ocean there was 2 fisherman in a boat. They was fishing for humungus and majestic fish for there Village.

After a few hours at sea, one of the fisherman saw a huge splash in the dark, deep and devouring sea! One of the fisherman got his sharp and shiny spear to try and catch it. But the other fisherman is not in the mood to catch fish, he doesn't like to kill poor animals. The other fisherman got very mad and started to shake him about but suddenly a fog appeared and the fish was gone so ~~there~~^{it} was pointless.

Clouds started to appear and it got dark as a dusk even tho it was 2 o'clock in the afternoon, it was impossible to see. One fisherman saw an eye behind the seal so he got his spear and aproched slowly to the huge eye but when the seal looked back the seal freaked out and pulshed the fisherman to the freezing water.

As the fisherman got up ^{there} a kusumani apeard and broke the boat! The whale gobled them up and no one knows what happens next. I can see you are using ambitious expanded noun phrases and commas after fronted adverbials. Next time, use and punctuate speech correctly.
